ICIS 2012 HCI Information

Orlando, Florida, USA, December 2012

SIGHCI Pre-ICIS Workshop

Sunday December 16th, 2012

The objective of the workshop is to provide an open and constructive discussion forum of important HCI research in Information Systems that addresses the ways humans interact with information, technologies, and tasks - especially in business, managerial, organizational, social and/or cultural contexts. HCI in MIS is concerned with the macro level (versus the micro level) of Human-Computer Interaction analysis.

The best, completed research papers from the workshop will be fast-tracked for publication consideration in the Journal of the Association for Information Systems (JAIS) - <http://aisel.aisnet.org/jais/> and AIS Transaction on Human Computer Interaction (THCI) - <http://aisel.aisnet.org/thci/>

Please see the sighci website for more details. (<http://www.sighci.org>)

ICIS HCI Track

16-19 December

Please come and hear the latest HCI-based research at the various mini-track sessions within the HCI track.

Check the ICIS program at a later date for times and locations.

Announcement: AIS SIGHCI Business Meeting

SIGHCI will be holding its annual business meeting (executive committee meeting) at ICIS 2012 in the Orlando World Center Marriott on Sunday, December 16, 2012 (Directly after the HCI workshop). SIGHCI members and all interested parties are welcome to attend. Your input is valuable to improve services for all SIGHCI members.

HCI Program at Michigan State University

Announcing a new Master's Concentration in Human-Computer Interaction at Michigan State University

The Department of Telecommunication, Information Studies, and Media (TISM) at Michigan State University (MSU) is pleased to announce the arrival of our new MA concentration in Human Computer Interaction (HCI). This transcriptable concentration is designed to prepare students for careers in user experience / interaction design, usability, information architecture, and other HCI related areas, while also providing foundational scholarly training for those interested in pursuing postgraduate studies in related domains. Courses bridge theory and practice while offering experiential learning through industry client engagements that focus primarily on the design and development of media artifacts/projects.

You may find more information online for our M.A. HCI concentration at <http://tism.msu.edu/ma>

Invitation to Apply: Media and Information Studies Ph.D.

Our name expresses our vision of a social science field that combines conventional mass media research with the search for new knowledge about the implications of evolving information and communication technologies including the Internet, digital games, and mobile and social media. Our approach is multidisciplinary, combining 50 faculty with degrees in information systems, communication, advertising, public relations, marketing, journalism, economics, sociology, and computer science, all pursuing teaching and research opportunities in three participating units, each with their own specialties:

- Telecommunication, Information Studies, and Media (<http://tism.msu.edu>)
- Advertising and Public Relations (<http://aprr.msu.edu>)
- Journalism (<http://jrn.msu.edu>)

The application deadline for admission in Fall, 2013, is January 1, 2013. For more information, please visit <http://cas.msu.edu/programs/phdinmis> or contact Nancy Ashley.

As MSU advances knowledge and transforms lives through innovative academic programs, research, and outreach, the university is recognized internationally as a top research university and a leader in international engagement. Our Media and Information Studies (MIS) doctoral program in the College of Communication Arts and Sciences (CAS) was ranked second (2nd) in the Mass Communication category by the Chronicle of Higher Education. U.S. News & World Report's 2013 edition of America's Best Colleges ranks MSU 28th among the nation's public universities. The publication consistently ranks MSU among the top 100 national universities in its annual rankings, as it has also been ranked by Times Higher Education. Also, MSU is one of only four higher education institutions in the nation to rank in the top 10 for study abroad participation and international student enrollment.

Our world renowned faculty focus on multiple areas of media production, management, and policy, including video and audio production, information technology, information and communication technology for development (ICT4D), and new media design including web, social media, serious games and meaningful play.

Call for Items: AIS SIGHCI Newsletter Volume 12, Issue 1

You are invited to offer items to the coming issue of AIS SIGHCI newsletter (Volume 12, Issue 1), to be published in July 2013. All items will be editorial reviewed.
